

Portrait Commissions:

Lesley purchased a family portrait as a gift for her sister's Christmas. Diesel the doggo was my favourite to illustrate! She simply sent me photo's of each family member and I used them for reference.

The boys even were even wearing specific tshirts with their fave superheroes on them! A number of individual images can be used to create the portrait eg. outfit from one and hair style from another.

Client Testimonial:

"Bought as a gift for my sister, all I needed to do was give Lauren a photograph and any specifics and she did the rest! I got to see what the print looked like before printing, just in case I wanted any changes made. My sister loved it and thought it was so cute. My favourite part was the family dog!"

Portrait Commissions:

A personalised portrait makes a thoughtful gift for a loved one, and is a great addition to any home. From family and friends to your fave film character!

Amy purchased a custom Mother's Day portrait, the perfect gift for the special women in her life. She also purchased a portrait for her Gran's birthday, created using a specific photograph from a fun, pamper day they spent together!

Client Testimonial:

"I love getting portraits commissioned by Lauren, any time I need a personalised birthday gift that is unique I send over a photo and it's brought to life in Laurens quirky style. They are a hit with my friends and family, capturing the finest details to really bring the memory to life. I enjoy the process, Lauren always sends over drafts to check the progress and if I am happy, tweaking little bits when I ask. Always happy with the result."

I am considering using Lauren's design abilities to create my brand logo for a business idea I have in future. I'm excited to see what we can come up with."
